The Acacia Metro Story. Small strips of acacia generated from the manufacture of items like salad bowls and furniture were being thrown away. These gems are saved from the waste stream and, by joining in both width and length, a mosaic of rich browns and golden tones with light and dark contrasting grain patterns is created. An oil or poly finish will suit many environments. When your design calls for a splash of white, a perfect grey, or something dark, Wire White, Driftwood, or Wire Dark can be just the ticket.
